

Christian Coach's Creed

I believe in Jesus Christ, who is my Lord and Savior.

I believe it is my duty to uphold Jesus' teaching as found in the Holy Bible, in my own life and actions, as well as within my relationship with anyone I coach.

I believe that to whom more is given, more is required. As a Christian life coach, my personal life must be completely above reproach. My actions or omissions shall never lead anyone to doubt my faith or their own.

I believe it is my duty as a Christian Life Coach to point to the Holy Scriptures as God's inerrant plan. When my client is uncertain, confused or at a loss for direction and particularly if my client's direction appears to be aiming away from the truth found in God's Word.

I believe my relationship with my client should be Christ-centered and client-focused, where my goal is to help my client with their God-given purpose and living true to it.

I believe it is my duty to maintain the confidentiality of everyone I coach, unless information is released by the client or such confidentiality conflicts with the prevailing law or court order. Otherwise, information shall remain confidential unless it is deemed that such information could be illegal, harmful or dangerous to person or property.

I will maintain integrity in all business and personal dealings; performing as I commit to perform, referring clients to others if the client's needs do not match my competencies.

I believe my sessions are to be led by the Holy Spirit, and I must be ever ready to speak the truth in love as I am lead.

My goal is and will always be: personal and professional excellence.

I believe when I am weak, God is strong. With God in it, nothing is impossible! Amen
